

Name: _____

Spring

Spring is like a giant, soft hug.

The air smells sweet, like rain and flowers.

The grass is a soft, green carpet.

Tired tulips stand up straight and smile.

Birds chirp and sing happy songs.

Bunnies hop and squirrels chase each other.

Bees buzz and butterflies flutter.

I wear my red raincoat and splash in puddles.

Warm sun makes my cheeks rosy.

Spring makes me want to dance.

Name: _____

1. The poet says Spring is "like a giant, soft hug." What kind of feeling is the poet describing?

- A) Scared and cold.
- B) Safe, warm, and happy.
- C) Sad and lonely.
- D) Angry and loud.

2. Which sense is used in the second line: "The air smells sweet, like rain and flowers"?

- A) Sight
- B) Taste
- C) Touch
- D) Smell

3. What are the "tired tulips" doing in the poem?

- A) Taking a nap in the dirt.
- B) Standing up straight and smiling.
- C) Hiding from the rain.
- D) Falling over in the wind.

4. In a free verse poem, the lines don't have to rhyme. What makes this poem feel like Spring?

- A) It uses many words that start with the letter "S."
- B) It tells a story about a winter snowstorm.
- C) It is written in the shape of a flower.
- D) It describes things that happen in the Springtime.